Commodore's Comments

Yet again, another magnificent weekend here at Birch Lake! Had rain to nourish our flowers, plants and yards, sunshine to energize ourselves, and a reprieve from the humidity to make us want to be outside. We have been blessed with some really great weather and reports are indicating that this weekend's weather will continue in the same delightful pattern. Last week I told mother nature to, "keep it up," so I hope she gets her Barker in time this week to continue the tremendous job this weekend, that she has done for us in the last month or so.

The weekend that all of us look forward to has finally arrived! Rumor has it, that all of our projects must be completed by this weekend so we can simply enjoy the rest of the year on the lake. I know Amy and I are not close to adhering to the previous statement, but I do hope that many of you are! So for all of you that are caught up and all of you that are in our shoes, please take this weekend, slip on some flip flops and enjoy the festivities and the great weather that seems to be destined for our wonderful lake.

On Saturday the boat parade will be getting underway at 4pm at Dick Bender's pier, decorate your boat and join in the fun. Our Grand Marshalls for this year's parade will be Jim and Eleanor Thayer, escorted by Marlow and J.P. Hoyer. The spectacular fireworks show will light off around dusk, and from looking at the list of projectiles it will be another superb show!!!

Last but not least, we will be cooking up our world famous pancakes and sausage at the camp from 8am to 11am on Sunday morning. If you have not heard yet, this year's proceeds will be sponsoring camperships to help kids go to camp.

Looking ahead we will also be selling tickets for the spaghetti dinner at the camp on Sunday, remember that this is on a first-come basis and has been sold out in years' past.

Lastly I would like to thank all the people that make these events possible, without them these events would not be possible!! Hat's off to all that make these wonderful events so successful. Keep in mind, that this weekend there will be more boats on our waters than what is typical. Please stay focused and watch

Pancake Breakfast

The Annual 4th of July Breakfast will be July 6th at Camp Tanadoonah

Adults $5.00...Children 6 to 10 $2.00...under 5 free

Please plan to attend and support Camp Tanadoonah.

Be careful!

Let's be careful out there! With the Holiday weekend comes congested boat traffic. Some lake residents have mentioned boats failing to stay offshore the proscribed distance. In addition, for those inclined to "do the wild thing" on wave runners, it would be appreciated if this was confined to the center of the lake (not in the outer traffic pattern near shore).

2008 Birch Lake Boat Parade

The 2008 Boat Parade will start at Dick Bender's pier at 4:00 on Saturday. Boat entries need to check in with the judges and get their number. After going around the lake, go back to Dick's pier to get your award.

Let's give all of the entrants and Grand Marshall, Jim and Eleanor Thayer, a big Birch Lake reception as the boats go around the lake!

'Surprised by Beauty'

Birch Lake resident Carol Dugan is beginning a gallery show at Carnegie Center for the Arts in

Birch Barker Kids of the Week

Senors Frito Bandito and Jose Gonzales posed for a photo at the Commodore's Party last week with their newly acquired facial hair (ok, it's really Calvin King (north shore) and Neil Troeger (east side)).

Three Rivers, Michigan. A reception will be held at Carnegie on Saturday, July 12 from 6 pm to 7:30 pm, celebrating the opening of the show. All are invited. Carol's photography will hang in the gallery from June 28 through August 31. The theme is 'Surprised by Beauty.' Local and distant landscapes are featured.

Visitors to the North Shore

Bill and Le King once again look forward to hosting frequent 4th of July visitors Ric and Lisa Dwenger (from Muncie) and Chuck, Karen and Sarah Elizabeth Horn (from Noblesville). Please drop by and welcome back these dear friends.

Thanks from the Spratts

The Spratts on the north side are enjoying their updated kitchen with new cabinets and countertops. The old metal cabinets and peeling contact paper had lost it's charm and it was time for a change. Thanks to John, Rick and Stan for the help in installing; thanks to Deb for unloading the old cabinets and replacing all the dishes and other stuff; thanks to Becky for the microwave and thanks to Amber for taking a couple of the old ones to the camp.

And an especially big thanks goes to the folks at American Waste Residential in Union. (In case you missed it, they are the new trash service provider for the folks on the north shore.) Replacing cabinets means having to somehow dispose of the old ones. I called Katy at American Waste (269.641.7502) and told her I needed a special pick-up. She told me to just go ahead and put the cabinets out there and they would take them...FOR NO EXTRA CHARGE. Awesome. Michiana Recycling never did that for me. Give Katy a call and I'm sure she can help you out too.

Greta and Lyla Boecher grandchildren of Rick and Patti Russwurm celebrating Lyla's one year birthday. Cutest little buggers!

Fido's Friend Wordsearch

There are a whole bunch of words in the puzzle below that relate to man's (and women's) best friends.

Some are ordinary words ... some are the name of specific breeds. The words may run in every direction (left to right, right to left, top to bottom and bottom to top).

See how many you can find — we'll publish the list (and show you where they are) in next week's Barker (why isn't 'Barker' on the list?).

Yap at cha next week,

Fleet Captains' Corner

News from the fleet captain's daughter ...

Hello, this is Katie, the Fleet Captain's daughter. My dad thinks he has his little corner all written out and ready to put in the Barker, but unfortunately for him, he doesn't know that I know how to work a computer and that I'm "editing" his corner.

Finally, after two weeks of no sailing, we could sail last Sunday. At eleven o'clock it didn't look like we would be sailing. But before twelve, my dad was yelling at me to get my boat out. We had a great turnout of MCs; unfortunately, I can't say the same about the Sunfish (there were only two of us).

I especially want to thank Tom Howard. He turned around many times during the races to give me pointers. One of Tom's tips was given at the start of the first MC race (start of the Sunfish's 5 minutes.) Tom told me to get right up on the starting line so I wouldn't be way behind the other boats when the race started. To make his point clear, he pointed at one of the MCs and said, "Look at that boat; he wasn't right on the line and now he's way behind everyone." To this I responded, "Oh yeah, that's my dad." I hope my dad doesn't read this.

Don't forget: this Saturday and Sunday (July 5th and 6th) at 12:00 noon will be the 4th of July Regatta. Let's hope a lot of people show up (and we see more Sunfish this time!) Sailors, don't forget that although Regatta races are scored separately from the regular season races, they will count towards the minimum number of races required to qualify for the season.

I'm planning on hiding this week's Barker from my dad. I would really appreciate it if no one would mention this to him and instead tell him how great his column was this week (wink, wink).

Tannadoonah Tidbits

Happy Fourth of July to everyone! Last week was a crazy week at camp — but what an exciting way to start the summer! We had a total of 85 campers, and I think everyone ended up having a super time. This week is mini-week, and we only have 45 kids, so it's a nice break for the staff before the holiday.

I would like to extend a huge thank you to all of the people on the lake who have helped out at camp, and / or made donations this year. We could never make it without the generosity of all the great people up here at the lake.

Thank you to the following families for their contributions to the campership fund: The Leatherman family, the Wos family, the Chesters, the Steffans, and the Wozniaks. There are also a number of families who have contributed to the "sponsor a cabin" campaign — I apologize because I do not yet have a list of those names.

In addition to the donations for camperships and cabins, we have received many great donations of items which we can use at camp. Thank you to the Sharpes for the refrigerator for the store, the Chesters for the ice machine, the Hoyers for the waterfront supplies, Brovolds for the cabinets and lights, Spratts / Pitakos for the cabinets and countertops, Whitemans for the sports equipment, and many others who have dropped off items for us.

And we've had many, many other people who have volunteered their time, energy, and services to help us make Camp happen. Thank you to Tom Mosier and family for the chlorination of the 3 wells, to Mike Lutz for bringing up his bobcat several times to help with the road and burning of brush, and for helping with the pier and diving board.

To Don Harman for coming over many times to help fix lights and other electrical issues. And to the Garceaus, Bolingers, Vitales, Terry Dugan, Harmans, Artie McElwee, Freihofers, Dobosiewicz, Olsons, Rogers, Bob Waddle, and the Yoshizawas for helping out at work days and working on various projects around camp. I sincerely appreciate all the help from everyone who has been up here to help, and I hope that I have not left anyone off the list — I'm so sorry if I missed you!

A few quick staff bios for this week: Mr. Phil is very excited to be back at camp this year. He is living with the oldest boys and directing our Low Ropes Challenge course. Mr. Phil will be a sophomore at Notre Dame in the fall, and is planning to major in Psychology. For a fun fact, he says that if he could, he'd like to be a Penguin!

Mr. Matt is a first-time member of our staff and is living with the 5th and 6th grade boys. He grew up spending summers on the lake at his grandparents' cottage (the Toths on the West Side). Mr. Matt will be a sophomore at IUSB in the fall, and really enjoys music. He splits time between our nature program and the archery program.

Mr. Mike is one of our junior counselors. He will be a senior at Penn High School in the fall. Mr. Mike is living with the 5th and 6th grade boys as well, and typically can be found out on the Sports and Games field or at the Archery range. He plays football and baseball at Penn. Following Mr. Phil's lead, Mr. Mike says that if he could, he'd like to be a Gorilla!

One more very important note. This weekend (Sunday) is the pancake breakfast, and I have mentioned before that all the proceeds will be going towards camperships. In addition, we have received an anonymous pledge to match the contribution! So let's make this pancake breakfast the best one ever! Chas and I will also be selling Camp Tannadoonah apparel at the breakfast, so come on by and pick up a t-shirt or sweatshirt, or some other camp gear.

Have a great holiday weekend!

A SHORT STORY IN A LONG STORY OF WATER QUALITY AT BIRCH LAKE

Don Winne, Executive Director Michigan Lake & Stream Associations, plays a major part in the long story of Birch Lake Water Quality. He remains the guide and information source to resolve a Water Quality issue. There are many Lake Experts who have led and still lead; however, his name is in every chapter beginning with the 1978 Birch Lake Watershed Analysis Study.

1978 Birch Lake Watershed Analysis Study was prepared by Southwestern Michigan Regional Planning Commission. The Study collected information on the lake and the watershed.

1978 Southwestern Michigan Inland Lakes-Watershed Study prepared under a contract with National Biocentric, was essential to understanding the physical, chemical, and biological system of Birch Lake: Phosphorus, Chlorophyll a, and Secchi disk was measured, analyzed and recorded

Their work continues to be valuable to management of the Birch Lake Shoreland and Sub-area watershed. The maps identify Land Use Cover, Drainage, and Sub-area Loading.

1984 Cass County Health Department Birch Lake Survey Program

The Director of Environmental Health responded to residents and Executive Director, ML&SA.

- Data from the 1978 Study was valuable to the implementation of the program that corrected faulty septic systems that were contributing bacteria and/or phosphorus to the lake.

1986 Progressive AE Lake Management Report for Birch Lake (Tony Groves)

Recommendations from Progressive AE, and National Biocentric were essentially the same.

- Eliminate phosphorus from lawn fertilizers. Correct faulty septic systems.
- Form a lake preservation committee to guide management of watershed, Shoreland and Lake to insure the unique environmental and aesthetic attributes of Birch Lake.

The lake preservation committee was formed by Randy & Fran Welch, Earl & Connie Troeger, Helen & Bernie Weesner, Bob & Gert Temple. As established, the committee became the liaison between the Department, Commodore, and Residents. The committee assisted the Director of Environmental Health in the field and in the office. The Commodore and the Residents assisted the Committee with funds and manpower.

With the 90's came the selection by the committee of new members: Terry and Linda Curtis and Rick Russwurm, chaired by Dan Reynolds.

With the 90's came the Birch Lake Monitoring Program (BLMP) as recommended by the Director of each management site. The committee continues to assist the Directors with support of the Commodore and Residents to insure background and immediate data for lake preservation.

With the 90's came the Cooperative Lakes Monitoring Program (CLMP) recommended by Michigan Lake & Stream Associations. The committee continues to collect sampling data.

*In 2002 Tony Groves, Progressive AE, conducted an Assessment of Birch Lake and noted:
"Recent sampling data which indicates the Lake exhibits excellent water quality attest to the success of the septic upgrade program"*

CLMP is administered by Specialists with degrees in Aquatic Chemistry and Biological Science which brings attention to the biological and chemical properties and physical characteristics of Birch Lake's unique personality. With the support of the Commodore and Residents, the committee continues to enroll in the CLMP Projects:

Secchi disk Transparency	Phosphorus	Chlorophyll a.	Dissolved oxygen/Temperature
Harmful Algae Monitoring.	Rapid Algal Assay Monitoring.		Aquatic Plant Mapping
Eurasian Milfoil Control	Zebra Mussel Monitoring.		Purple Loosestrife Monitoring

SAILORS RULE!

Why the focus on sailing? If $4 gasoline isn't enough, it happens to be one of the three founding priorities listed in our Birch Lake Yacht Club Letters of Incorporation. From memory, the other two are: to care for the lake watershed and to promote fellowship in our Lakeland community.

Though we hit (and rebounded from) a nadir not so long ago, Birch has a rich history of sailing/racing, including one resident former National Champion (Earl Troeger, who is a patriarch and mentor to many here). Long ago our two fleets were Snipe and Sunfish. It wasn't uncommon to see 10-12 Snipe and 20-30 colorful Sunfish on weekend race days!

Today the Sunfish remain, though participation ebbs and flows. It's ironic that so few of the little lateen rigged boats come out to play. We once took a count and there are over 60 Sunfish hulls at Birch! Maybe they just need a little love? The Sunfish is an ideal boat, relatively inexpensive, and easy to sail. Ask any sailor for help to re-rig your boat.

The Birch Snipe fleet was replaced by a scow, the single sail MC. Scows, with their flat bottomed, spoon shaped hulls are native to the Midwest in the ILYA (Inland Lake Yacht Association). After WWII there were a dozen scow builders, when new exotic materials came into use (fiberglass replaced wooden hulls and Dacron/nylon fabric replaced Egyptian cotton sails).

Boats still racing in ILYA fleets are, among other new variants: the flagship A scow (38'), the E scow (28'), the C scow (20'), the M scows – M16, with a divided sail plan and MC (both 16'), etc. And yes Virginia, there were once other letter designators for: B scows, and D scows, etc., but, fleet jujitsu grew around select sizes while those found less popular went to storage.

Though sailing was first a mode of transportation (so as not to row), and can be a wonderful pastime, on Sundays (weather providing) we race. This Holiday weekend we will run the annual 4th of July regatta. If you and your boating guests would be so kind, please don't cut through the fleet when racing is underway.

Give 'em a break ... not your wake.

Thanks!

Stu's Star Stuff

Centaurus & Alpha Centauri

Centaurus, the centaur, just peeks above the southern horizon on spring nights. More of the constellation becomes visible as you travel farther south. Highlights include Omega Centauri, the brightest globular star cluster visible in Earth's sky, and Alpha Centauri, the closest star system to our own. Unfortunately, Alpha Centauri is visible only from the farthest southern points in the U.S., such as Hawaii and the tips of Texas and Florida.

According to mythology, the night sky would be a lot less interesting if not for the exploits of Hercules. The sky is filled with creatures and people who were killed by the strongman, then placed in the sky by the gods or by Hercules himself. The list includes Leo, the lion; Cancer, the crab; and Hydra, the water snake. Another of his victims was Chiron, a half-man, half-horse known as a centaur. Legend says that Chiron was a brainy fellow who tutored many of the gods. He was slain when he was accident-tally hit by one of Hercules's poison arrows. In tribute, the gods placed him in the sky, where he forms the constellation Centaurus.

From the United States, late spring is the best time to view the centaur. He trots very low across the south during the evening and early morning hours. Unfortunately, he's so far south that for most of the U.S., a big part of the constellation remains below the horizon. But all of us can see the centaur's head and shoulders, which include several fairly bright stars. That region of the constellation also includes the biggest, brightest star cluster in the night sky. Known as Omega Centauri, it contains a million or more stars. To the eye alone it looks like a slightly fuzzy star, but binoculars reveal many of its individual stars. What most of us can't see is the centaur's most famous feature: our closest stellar neighbors, the three-star system of Alpha Centauri. More on that another time.

And, more on Hercules next week.

Now, let's get out there and enjoy the show. It starts right after the fireworks and runs all night. And it's free.
